Board seeks bond issue

Almost $3.4 million needed for schools

By LESLIE WILLIAMS
The Hancock County School Board Friday agreed to seek voter approval of a $3,383,000 capital improvements bond issue.

The decision to move ahead with a bond issue proposal came when board members approved a resolution to be submitted to the county's Board of Supervisors for their ok.

The bond issue will provide money for construction of a new high school, new additions to Hancock North Central Elementary School and creation of a special education center.

If the bond issue is passed, a new high school will be constructed in the southern part of the county at a cost of $2,192,500.

This facility will include science and home economics, industrial arts, music, arts, social studies, mathematics, English, business education, special education and driver education departments.

In addition, there will be dressing room facilities, a library and food service area.

Also, $875,000 will be spent from the funds for construction of ten library, administration area, physical education teaching area and a band area at Hancock North Central Elementary School.

A special education center to serve all schools in the county and costing $207,500 is planned on grounds of the proposed new junior-senior high.

School Superintendent Terrell Randolph said the remaining $108,000 will be used for architectural expenses and other fees.

The School Board was unanimous in approving the bond issue resolution, but divided on whether or not to bring in The Southern Region School Board and Training Center from Tuscaloosa, Ala., to help sell the bond issue to the county's voters.

RV mishap brings death to traveler

I-10 DEATH-Michael Walsh, far right, looks on as traffic is directed around the accident scene in which his wife, Susan Anne Walsh, 65, of Adrian, Mo., was killed. She was killed when the station wagon in the background turned over. (Staff photo-Rich Adams)

By RICH ADAMS
A vacationing Adrian, Mo., woman was killed Friday afternoon on Interstate-10 in Hancock County when she apparently lost control of a station wagon and camper-trailer she was driving.

She was reportedly trying to pass another vehicle when the accident occurred, overturning both the International-Harvester Travelall and camper-trailer, Mississippi Highway Patrolman Herschel Ladner reported.

Mrs. Susan Anne Walsh, 65, was pronounced dead on the scene by Hancock County Coroner Carl Banderet Friday at 2:45 p.m.

According to Banderet, Ms. Walsh died as a result of massive head injuries.

Her husband, Michael Walsh, was asleep in the vehicle at the time of the accident. He was uninjured.

"Apparently what happened is the woman attempted to pass another car, and the trailer she was hauling started to sway," said Ladner.

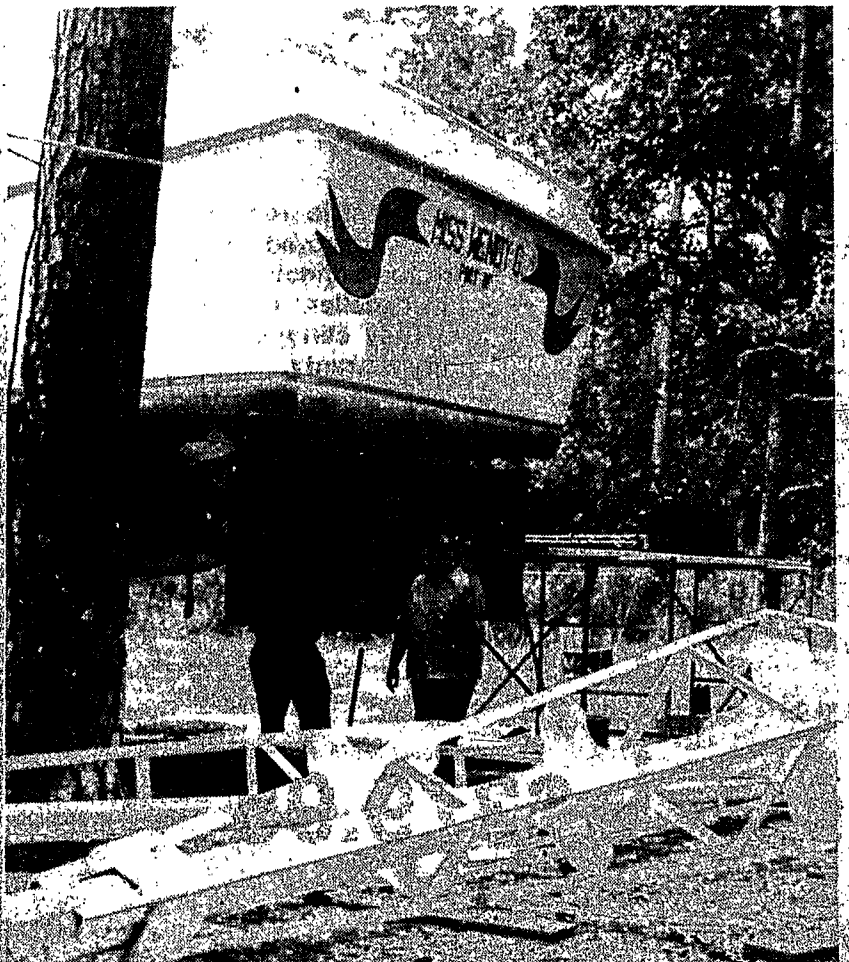

"It looks like she got excited, lost control, and flipped over," he added.

Also responding to the call were Hancock County Sheriff's Department and Diamondhead Fire Department.

The body was taken to Edmund Fahey Funeral Home.

ALL STEEL - "All it takes to build one is lots of money and plenty of spare time," says Isadore Giveans as he and his wife, Doris, shade themselves from the sun. Isadore hand built this 65 foot steel boat practically by himself. (Staff photo-Leslie Williams)

By LESLIE WILLIAMS
In an age of machine technology and mass production, hand made products still blossom in.

And when the hand made product is a 65-foot long, 22.5-foot wide, 55-ton steel boat, it becomes apparent man can still do it himself.

Isadore J. Giveans Jr., 55, is the proud owner of the creation. With the help of his sons Wayne, 34, and Larry, 32, he built the boat by hand.

"I've been working on the boat for six years," said Isadore calmly, as though he had just completed a six-week project.

"He did it just in his spare time," said his wife Doris.

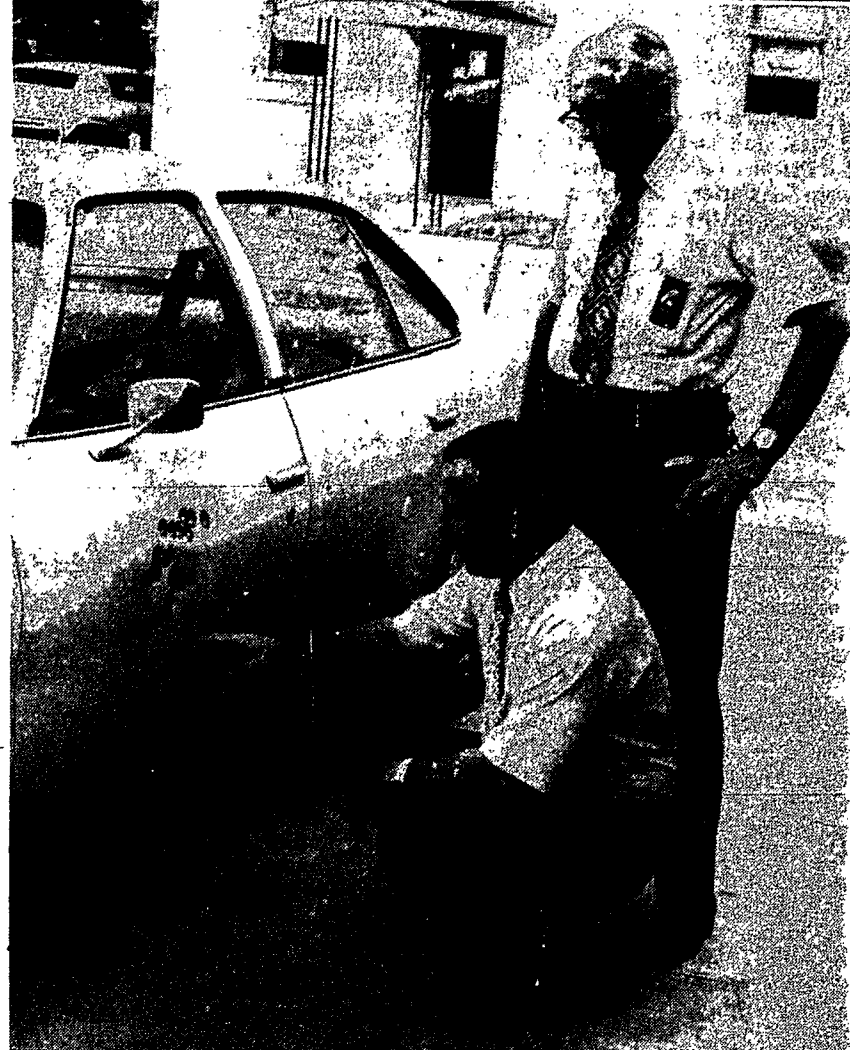

Though the major part of construction on the boat is complete, the engine and rigging still must be installed.

Mustache policy unfair, HNC student complains

By LESLIE WILLIAMS
Byron Hoda, along with his mother Ruth, complained about Hancock North Central's mustache policy to the Hancock County School Board at its meeting last week.

Hoda, a senior at Hancock North Central, told the board, "I don't see the significance of having to shave my mustache-it doesn't affect learning or the ability to do work."

School Board President Woodrow Ladner told Hoda, "We know the policy makes your ego feel deflated now, but you probably will not feel that way later."

School Superintendent Terrell Randolph added, "There are a lot of rules that this board has to operate by and I sympathize, but I think it's a rule we have to live by."

"I still don't see how it's going to affect my learning," repeated Hoda.

His mother, Ruth, intervened saying, "His mustache was very small, it didn't look bad-it's what we call peach fuzz."

"It's a matter of pride," answered Ladner, "if we can't teach pride we can't teach academics."

Teachers wear beards and mustaches, said Hoda.

The board president said teachers have been asked to comply with the dress code, but they can not be forced to comply.

"There are a lot of students upset about the mustache policy," exclaimed Byron.

"Where you may disagree," replied Ladner, "there are hundreds that feel it should be shaved off."

"Byron, the rule is not going to change," insisted Ladner.

"We've taken enough time on this issue," concluded Ladner.

Rule No. 16 in the Hancock County Student Handbook states, "Students must be cleanly shaven."

The rule is included in a handbook section on dress, which states, "Knowledge of appropriate dress and good grooming is a basic part of education. Appearance on all occasions creates an impression. Pride in your school is reflected by pride in your personal appearance."

Pass man shoots at patrol car

By RICH ADAMS
A Pass Christian man was arrested Thursday after he allegedly shot at an unmarked Hancock County sheriff's patrol car in an apparent case of mistaken identity, Sheriff Sylvan Ladner reported.

Andress Ladner, 59, a bartender at the White Cypress American Legion Post on Hwy. 608, called police late Thursday night to report a suspected break-in at the Post.

Andress Ladner was sleeping in the building when he said he heard noises and called the Hancock County Sheriff's Office.

According to Sheriff Ladner, no regular deputies were available at the time, so an auxiliary deputy was sent to investigate.

Deputies A. J. Cuevas and Ronnie Ferrell, not aware that an auxiliary deputy had already investigated, stopped at the American Legion to investigate.

According to the sheriff, the two lawmen looked the building over, and not finding any sign of forced entry, returned to their car and started to leave.

Andress Ladner, reportedly mistaking the deputies for thieves, allegedly shot at the car twice with a .40 magnum-force shotgun, the sheriff reported.

"If the blasts would have penetrated the inner panel of the door or would have been just six inches higher, one or both of my deputies might have been killed," Sheriff Ladner said.

Chief Deputy Ronnie Peterson said he thinks Andress Ladner shot at the two lawmen because he didn't recognize they were.

Ladner was arrested without resistance by the two officers following the shooting, charged with assault on officers.

He is lodged in Hancock County jail under $10,000 bail. A preliminary hearing on the charges is scheduled September 21 at 7 p.m.

Cuevas tells Echo staff appointments

By EDGAR PEREZ
Sea Coast Echo Publisher Ellis Cuevas has announced the appointment of staff writer Richard R. Adams to the position of sports editor.

Mrs. D. Michael Marquar, the former Sandra Curet, has been promoted to advertising sales representative from her position as layout and makeup artist in the Echo, composing room, Cuevas reported. She also compiles the Echo's This Week calendar of events.

Cuevas also has named Bay St. Louis native Leslie J. Williams to the Echo news staff.

Adams, 23, a Gulfport resident and native of Niles, Mich., is a 1973 graduate of Niles Senior High School.

After serving four years with the U.S. Navy's Construction Battalion, he was discharged at Gulfport in December, 1977, holding the rank of petty officer third class.

He has been a member of the Echo news staff since June, and was a sports writer on the Niles, Mich., Daily Star, prior to joining the Navy.

He is married to the former Anita

OLG Nuptial Mass unites Carter and Compretta

Phyllis Marie Carter and Anthony Paul Compretta, Jr. exchanged wedding vows on Saturday, September 9 at Our Lady of the Gulf Church in Bay St. Louis.

The 11 a.m. Nuptial Mass was performed by Reverend Bernard Farrell of Pascagoula.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Norman (Hap) Carter of Pass Christian and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony P. Compretta, Sr. of Bay St. Louis.

A program of nuptial music was presented by organist Mrs. John McKenna and vocalists Mr. and Mrs. David Gilder of Jackson.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal high waisted gown of candlelight satin and imported lace. The full gathered skirt edged with a deep ruffle and chapel train complimented a fitted lace bodice and long sleeves.

She carried a bouquet of red roses and baby's breath with pale blue accents.

Serving the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Suzanne Morreale of New Orleans, La. Bridesmaids were Lea Carter, of Mobile, Ala., sister of the bride, Charlotte Piazza of Hattiesburg, and Pat Austin, cousin of the groom.

They wore heather blue gowns with a blouson waist treatment, and carried single stem red roses with lace streamers.

Chris Austin served his cousin as best man. Groomsmen were Robert Compretta, brother of the groom, Mark Mareno of Long Beach, and Jack Carter, of Mobile, Ala., brother of the bride. Robert Compretta, Jr. served as usher.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the American Legion home.

Mrs. Katie Compretta, godmother of the groom, served punch. Amy and Connally Compretta, nieces of the groom, kept the guest register, and cake was served by Shirley Kingston.

After their return from a wedding trip, the couple will make their home in Mobile, Ala.

Friends and family honor Camille Schaefer on 65th

By Joe Pilet

A milestone in the useful life of Camille Schaefer was marked last Sunday when friends and family gathered to celebrate the 65th birthday anniversary of this busy and industrious man.

An early retirement made mandatory several years ago when Schaefer's heart condition required the placement of a pace-maker didn't overly slow down his energy and industry.

He kept the tools of his trade plus handyman equipment sparkling with use with home, family and friends rewarded with his expertise.

The party idea, a unique one, was the brain child of his daughter, Mrs. Bill Terry of Mobile and of Mrs. Richard Schaefer, a daughter-in-law who lives in New Orleans.

A sheet cake decorated with miniature yellow-handled tools - saw, hammer, pliers, etc. told part of the story.

Adding to the humor of the occasion, Schaefer received a plaque from the Highland Drive Chapter of the Grass Cutters Association of America together with a pearl-handled key to the men's room.

The plaque read: Your selection as one to receive this key is a distinct honor bestowed only upon those who have cut grass with meritorious precision and uncommon devotion to lawn care.

In addition to numerous local friends, those honoring Schaefer included granddaughters Jennifer and Aletha Terry of Mobile; a sister, Mrs. Marcel Ducorbier with her husband of New Orleans; a son, Richard Schaefer of Bay St. Louis, together with his wife and their children, Ryan and Jamie Rene.

Garden club district meetings announced

Mrs. Noel T. Cumbaa, president of the Garden Clubs of Mississippi, Inc., said plans for fall district meetings and program schedules for all Mississippi Garden Club members and officers have been completed.

The meetings will begin at 9 a.m. with registration and coffee. Business session is at 10 a.m. and the luncheon is scheduled at 12:30 p.m.

Registration fee includes cost of the luncheon. Advance registration is to be made with the registrar of each district.

These meetings are designed for reporting and presenting awards to individual clubs, Mrs. Cumbaa said.

The meeting schedule is: September 26 - Mrs. Alfred G. Nicols, Director. McComb, Percy Quin State Park.

Registrar: Mrs. T.P. Bollen, III, 402 New York Ave. McComb 39648. Fee - $5.00. September 27 - Mrs. John Brooks, Director. Biloxi, Biloxi Hilton on the Beach. Registrar: Mrs. Arthur Leder, 202 Hickory Hill Circle, Biloxi, 39532. Fee - $6.00.

October 10 - Mrs. Harold G. Williams, Director. Water Valley, First Baptist Church. Registrar: Mrs. Rachel Walker, South Main Street, Water Valley, 38965. Fee - $5.00.

October 11 - Mrs. J. Cooper Hurdle, Director. Holly Springs, Kate Clark Museum, College Street, registration and coffee. Business session - United Methodist Church, Van Dorn Ave. Registrar: Mrs. Elton McIntosh, 202 Randolph St., Holly Springs, 38635. Fee - $5.00. Program on Flower Arranging, follows luncheon.

Gulf Coast Symphony Guild reports guild, shop, orchestra activities

The Gulf Hills home of Mrs. Cecil Guyton was the setting for the September 6 meeting of the Gulf Coast Symphony Guild.

Assisting the hostesses were Mrs. Ralph Elizardi, Mrs. Lewis Schweickhardt, Mrs. Robert E. Meyer, and Mrs. R. M. Evans.

Guild president Mrs. R. W. Westfall introduced Mrs. John Rossi, who will replace Mrs.

Robert O. Amdall as Symphony Shop chairman, and announced that Mrs. Zella Steele will become the Shop bookkeeper.

Mrs. Rossi said workshops will be scheduled to familiarize the many new workers with shop procedures.

Mr. W. N. Permenter and Mrs. C. G. Reed reported a carport sale was held at the Symphony Shop Saturday, September 9, to clear the Shop of a large stock of men's women's and children's clothing, as well as jewelry and household goods.

On Wednesday, October 4, the Guild will hold a Tasting Luncheon at the Broadwater Country Club, beginning at 11:30 a.m.

Food prepared using recipes from "Cooking on the Sound," the new cookbook published by the Guild, will be served, according to Mrs. Clay Hilbert and Mrs. A. S. Westbrook, joint chairmen for the event.

Mrs. William J. Juliana is ticket chairman and Mrs. Cleve Allen will be in charge of decoration.

Charimen of the committees in charge of food preparation are Mrs. Louis Gale, hor d'oeuvres; Mrs. Wilfred Simmons, salad; Mrs. Juliana, vegetables; Mrs. Elwood Amos, entrees; Mrs. Robert E. Bunney, breads; and Mrs. Permenter, desserts.

Mrs. Thomas Forsythe will arrange for utensils and Mrs. L. K. Oglesby for beverages.

Mrs. Bunney, in charge of cookbook distribution announced that it is now available at the Symphony Shop, where it may be picked up by those who have put in advance orders.

Mrs. Permenter presented the outgoing president, Mrs. Charles M. Cox, with the traditional Symphony Guild charm, for her courage and enthusiasm. Mrs. Westfall announced that the next Board meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Permenter on September 27, at 10 a.m.

James Shannon, conductor of the Gulf Coast Symphony Orchestra for the past 15 years, was introduced by Miss Clara Nassar. In complimenting Guild members for their hard work raising funds or the orchestra, he stated that another great contribution by the Guild was their "providing a general optimistic air of wanting an organization such as the Symphony, especially need in a splintered community, such as ours on the Gulf Coast, with Guild members coming from Bay St. Louis to Pascagoula-Moss Point."

He told Guild members the hardest job he faces as director is to provide something for everyone in the choice of material. However, he feels that challenge has been well met in the first program of the 16th season, scheduled for September 23 at 8:30 p.m. in the Biloxi High School Auditorium, with music ranging from themes from the movie Rocky to Beethoven.

House party marks Alfred Selle's 2nd

Alfred Selle Jr. celebrated his second birthday Sept. 2 with a party at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Selle, Sr.

Joining in the celebration were his sisters, Sch and Lora; his uncle Brian Carpenter, Melissa and Kimberly Spouse, Donna Holmes, Lil Betty Spouse, Jimmy and Stevie Mollohan, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Holmes, Mrs. Pat Mollohan, Mrs. Debbie Spouse and his grandfather, David Carpenter Sr.

Pass Library to show slides on Brandywine

A slide presentation provided by the Brandywine River Museum, Chadds Ford, Pennsylvania, will be given at the Pass Christian Library September 21, at 2 p.m. by Mrs. Marty Kniffen, a former guide at the museum.

The program covers a history of the "Brandywine Heritage" and the influence of this tradition on illustration and the fine arts. Included are works by Howard Pyle "the father of American illustration," and Andrew and James Wyeth.

From itinerant painters to the famous Wyeth family, they number over 100 contributors to the national scene, including many illustrators whose pictures are remembered from magazines and books such as Harpers, Century, and Scribner's Children's Classics.

Military Mention

Five 1978 graduates of St. Stanislaus College in Bay St. Louis this summer completed basic training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S.C.

The five joined the Marines early in 1978 prior to graduation.

They include: Desmond C. Ladner, son of Cornelius J. Ladner, 404 de Montluzin Ave., Bay St. Louis;

DESMOND C. LADNER

M. G. ULMER III

STEPHEN P. JOHNS
Melvin G. Ulmer III, son of Suzanne L. and Melvin G. Ulmer Jr., 388 Felicity St., Bay St. Louis; Stephen P. Johns, son of Watson A. and Ruth E. Johns, 310 Carroll Ave., Bay St. Louis; Richard G. Trudell Jr., son of Helen M. Trudell, 117 Union St., Bay St. Louis; and Phillip A. Mueller, son of R. P. and Mary E. Mueller, 203 McClary, Pass Christian.

During the nine-week training cycle they learned the basics of battlefield survival. They were introduced to the typical daily routine that they will experience during their enlistment and studied the personal and professional standards traditionally exhibited by Marines, a Corps spokesman reported.

They participated in an active physical conditioning program and gained proficiency in a variety of military skills, including first aid, rifle marksmanship and close order drill, the Corps said.

Teamwork and self-discipline were emphasized throughout the training cycle.

The Ole Pastor Says

"AS WE HAVE THEREFORE OP-PORTUNITY, let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household of faith" - Gal. 6:10.

When opportunity knocks, do you open the door or do you send your excuses? When responsibility and obligation call, do you respond in person? or do you send your excuses?

When God calls - whatever the call may be - do you, like Isaiah of old, answer: "Here I am, send me!" Or do you hide behind instant excuses to justify your indifference?

In a parable recorded in Luke 14:16-24, Jesus told of a certain man who "made a great supper," and invited many: "and sent his servants at supper time to say to them that were hidden, Come; for all things are now ready."

They all alike began to make excuses, "the Master related. One was preoccupied with earthly possessions.
Another was involved with his profession. A third was caught up in family and social affairs. Each responded by sending their excuses.

All their excuses went begging, as they only served to insult and kindle the anger of the master of the house.

True enough, there are always excuses available if we are frail and foolish enough to use them. One thing is explicitly clear: the master of the house sent for them, not their threadbare excuses.

Let us clearly understand one thing: when God calls, He calls for us, not our excuses.
He does not accept our excuses, because He never asked for them in the first place.

God has never used men's excuses. He never will. God wants our lives, not our excuses! What have you given to God? A life? or an excuse?

Excuses never won a soul to Christ. Excuses never supported a fruitful missions programs. They never built a house of worship, a children's home, nor a Christian school.

USM's Coast Campus gets coordinator

A coordinator of science and technology at the University of Southern Mississippi Gulf Coast Regional Campus in Long Beach has been named, according to Dr. Joe Holloway, regional campus dean.

Lisa Gay Thomas will coordinate the six programs in the area of science and technology currently available on the regional campus.

These programs are computer science, data processing, building con-

Constitution Week

By JOE FILET
Gulf Coast DAR
Citizenship Chairman

Hancock County today begins a week long celebration of Constitution Week. The formal observance will continue through Sept. 23, marking the 191st anniversary of the adoption of the Constitution of the United States.

The National Society Daughters of the American Revolution originated the idea of devoting an entire week to the Constitution in 1955 and it met with the approval of the U.S. Congress and the President.

Jeannette O. Baylies, president general of the NSDAR, said, "Every bit of strength we have is rooted in the basic wisdom which developed and has preserved the Constitution of the United States. That document has enabled us to weather other passing storms through those 191 years and it will see us safely through these times as the good sense of the vast majority of Americans sustains it," Mrs. Baylies said.

She referred, of course, to some expressed thinking about changing the system or re-writing the constitution. That ours is the oldest federal constitutional system in existence and that through it the United States is recognized as the most democratic society in the world speaks volumes for the wisdom, strength and divine guidance of those dedicated men who formulated this great document.

During Constitution Week it is hoped that our citizens will read the constitution, display the American flag, and reflect on the blessings guaranteed each of us through the signing of this instrument.

Reflect on the four-month session of debates in Independence Hall at Philadelphia which resulted in the most important document in history, a document that serves as a model for almost every country that has adopted a constitution form of government.

Our Constitution serves as a solid and guilt-edged guarantee of order and liberty. Read it. Defend it and rejoice in your American citizenship.

solidation of the two districts are to eliminate a case backlog and provide more efficient management, Lott said. Hancock County Circuit Court Clerk Henry Otis sees no advantages to the consolidation.

"The Second Circuit Court District has a full-time court administrator in the Harrison County Courthouse. Since the administrator's post was opened three years ago, case loads in Hancock County have eased considerably," Otis said.

"I personally don't see how the consolidation can help the court system," he added.

Otis said only one case backlog exists in Gulfport courts.

"Court is held in Gulfport's First Judicial District every week of the year," he said.

"When Lamar Otis, my father, took office in January 1960, only one judge was in the district, the Honorable Leslie B. Grant," he continued.

"Now there are two other judge's posts in the three-county area, and there are many more cases filed now than in 1960, both civil and criminal," he said.

"I've heard no complaints from attorneys or litigants about a backlog in Hancock County despite the extra cases," he added.

"I just don't see how a consolidation of the two Circuit Court Districts can alleviate a backlog in the other counties," Otis said.

Chief Deputy Ronnie Peterson of Hancock Sheriff Sylvan Ladner's staff said, "I have been a deputy in Hancock County for seven years and I have watched crime rates climb to today's level."

"More crime has brought in more court cases, and I wouldn't be surprised if Hancock County has a case backlog every court in the country, probably does," the law enforcement official added. Peterson contends the LEAA should put more money into law enforcement instead of into courts in an effort to alleviate or reduce the number of cases being brought to court.

"If the LEAA put more money into law enforcement for manpower and equipment, more preventive measures could be taken," Peterson said.

"These measures could prevent many cases from even going before the courts," he added.

Nineteenth Circuit Court Judge Darwin Maples of Pascagoula has reportedly been pushing the consolidation, Otis said.

A spokesman for Judge Maples Friday confirmed the judge supports the consolidation due to a high crime rate in that area and a considerable case backlog in his district.

Judge Maples was not available for comment late Friday afternoon. He was reported on a trip to the ski resort area of Aspen, Colo.

"This is an 18-month demonstration program funded under the Court Delay Reduction Program," Lott explained.

"Hopefully, the consolidation will result in improved case processing and more effective judicial management in this multi-county jurisdiction," he added.

The LEAA said a single court administrator for the Southeast region of Mississippi would be established.

The administrator will work with a Regional Court Administrator Advisory Council made up of affected judges and representatives of other key agencies with an interest in the courts.

Project funding will be routed through the Mississippi Criminal Justice Planning Division, Lott's office reported.

The grant is authorized through Title I of the Omnibus Crime Control Act of 1973.

Bond issue...

Ladner said "I know the general public in Hancock County, and if you start hiring outside people to present the bond issue they will resent you for it."

"But if you go to them yourself..." the board president was saying when Randolph interjected, "Are you going to see every voter yourself?"

"Are you going to go to everybody's house," Randolph queried.

"No, but I'll tell you this," answered Woodrow. "It wouldn't take but a couple of meetings in every school in this county to sell this bond issue—and that is where we are going to have to sell it from."

"We don't have the 'smarts' to sell this bond issue," exclaimed Board Member Otis Ladner.

"We are dealing with an enormous amount of information that has to be expressed to the public, and for this we need this outside group's expertise," Otis Ladner continued.

Randolph said the advisory group will receive one percent of the total construction costs, less equipment costs, some $26,000 if the board decides to hire them.

He said this one percent will go to the architect if School Board Training Center is not hired. Randolph said about 7,000 people will have to be informed about the bond issue.

Gail Pressman of Pressman Realty, who appeared at the meeting in support of school improvements, told board members, "We're in real trouble if our schools don't improve. Just the other day, I lost two sales because of the schools, and this is quite common."

stalled before the boat will be ready for launching, said Isadore.

The boat will be a double rigged shrimp boat, said Isadore, powered by a two engine 500 h.p. plant.

"When he laid the first piece of steel, I said this was it, he would never complete it," said Doris.

"The majority of our friends thought we would never finish it," she continued. "The only people that believed Isadore would finish it were their only grand daughter, Wendy, and their maid and friend Mary Acker," said Doris.

"I've always finished anything I started. It just took time and patience," said Isadore.

"My father built quite a few big boats," he continued, "and I always wanted to build one since a child."

Isadore did not have any prior experience in building boats, said Doris, except for a small wooden one. "He drew his own plans," she commented. "He even taught himself how to weld, just so he could build the boat."

The Giveans' sons Wayne J. and Larry T. Giveans helped Isadore build the boat. "Larry did a little bit, but Wayne stuck in there," said Doris. "They are both technicians at the NASA test facility."

Isadore said the boat is designed to operate in the shallow waters of the Gulf, yet it is heavy enough to sail into deep water.

"Everything was handled by hand," said Isadore. "We used a homemade boom and a pick up truck to move the steel around." The steel was purchased from New Orleans.

A cutting torch, welding machine, mill, wedges and saddles were the major tools used in building the boat, said Isadore.

Isadore Giveans is a semi-retired tow boat captain. He has worked at this occupation for 22 years. He has also worked for General Electric and Global Associates at the Mississippi test facility.

Doris Giveans, along with her daughters-in-law Fay and Sandra Giveans, will decorate the inside of the boat.

Doris plans to have an air-conditioned master bedroom within the boat. She said the boat will also contain an additional double bed, clothes washer and dryer and a television.

The boat is named after Wendy as a result of her belief in Isadore's ability to complete the job, and her invaluable help, said Doris.

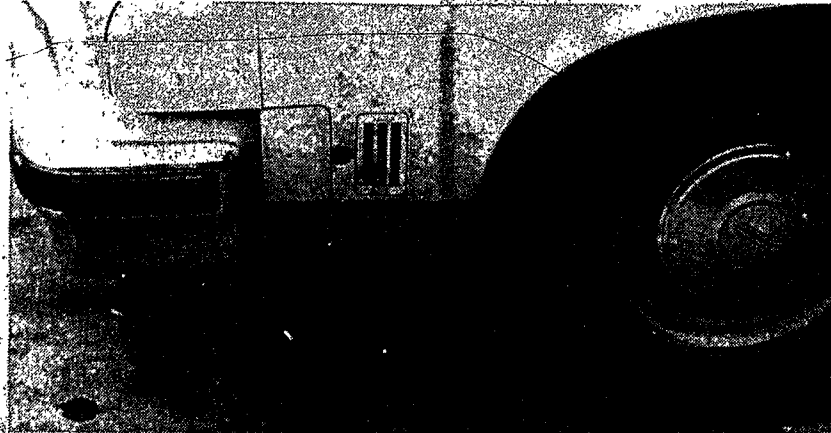

"Wendy even put on a welding sheet to watch Isadore work. She would always go out there and keep him company," said Doris. "We love her very much," said Isadore.

Isadore said he will launch his boat this weekend if he can.

Isadore advised that if anyone desires to build a boat like this, they will need two things. "A lot of money and spare time," he said.

ALL DONE - Proud owners, Doris and Isadore Giveans, rest on the stern as Doris contemplates the air-conditioned master bedroom with television and carpet to be built within the boat. Isadore hand-built this 55-ton steel boat he's standing on. He built it in his spare time. (Staff photo-Leslie Williams)

Letters to the Editor

School Board gap

Open letter to Board of Trustees
Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate
School District

Board Members,
As a parent of a second grade student at North Bay Elementary, three Bay Junior High students, and two Senior High students, I thought it essential that my voice be heard along with those of other concerned parents.

As a psychology and sociology major, I am concerned about a few other things not mentioned so far.

Our society insists that children go to school. In making this law society should be supportive of the law and the children, especially in lower grades where they are getting the foundations to become part of that society. Our young, impressionable children are being confronted with adult role models who tell them by their actions - and children are aware of what's going on around them - that the environment that they are placed in is not important as long as they stay where they are supposed to be for the prescribed amount of time.

Environment, however, is very important and is a situation that should have the utmost attention. Environment that is conducive to learning, happy healthy students, teachers who are comfortable enough and well equipped enough to cope with the learning situation, has got to have a positive effect on the child in later fields of endeavor.

Mental attitude of students and teachers alike is just as important as physical adaptability. But they do go hand in hand since mind and body are a total unit.

Since children and adults form this community, and community is what society is all about, I'm sure that all concerned, working together could come up with an acceptable solution to the problems at hand.

Communication seems to be the key word here, and as in the "generation gap," the "school board gap" will never be closed until all parties sit down as adults and work things out.

Sincerely,
Mrs. George Proulx
Bay St. Louis

'Best game this year'

Hawks shut out Tigers in annual county rivalry

By RANDY PONDER
Hancock North Central, in what Hawk head coach Irvin Favre called "the best game of the year", shut out the Bay High Tigers in an exciting hometown rivalry in Bay St. Louis Friday night.

"We played our best game of the year," commented Coach Favre after the Hawk victory.

"I am very pleased with the way we played tonight. The defense did a fine job, as did our running game," Favre added.

"The score did not indicate the game," contends Tiger head coach Billy Rhodes.

"We moved the ball, picked up 207 total yards, but we just couldn't get it across the goal line," he added.

Run is exactly what the Hawks did, sometimes seemingly at will. Halfback Greg Ladner picked up 180 yards on 16 carries.

The Hawks' first score came with 7:23 remaining in the second quarter. After a short Tiger punt from their own end zone, the Hawks took possession on the Tiger 13. Central led 7-0.

Three plays later Ladner went in from three yards out after a series of four consecutive fumbles between the in the fourth quarter, Ladner scored for Hancock's third and final goal on a short run.

The conversion was good to cap the 21-0 Hawk shutout.

Late in the final quarter the Bay defense stopped a Hawk scoring threat inside the ten. When the buzzer sounded, the Hawks had their fourth victory in as many outings for the season.

The Tigers have a 1-2 record.

"I have nothing but respect for Bay High," Coach Favre said. "They played a good game."

Commenting on the capacity crowd, Favre said, "We are extremely pleased with our turnout. It makes a difference."

"LaFontaine did some fine passing, and Larry Jackson, Tim Delcuze, and Ronald Collins ran the ball well behind the fine blocking of Paige Hitchcock and Daniel Evans," Tiger coach Rhodes said.

"Defensive standouts for the Tigers were Hewitt Parsons and Edwards. Delcuze played fine defense prior to being injured in the second half," Rhodes added.

"We have improved our play, and we think we could have beaten the Hawks, but it would have taken a super effort. They have a tremendous football team, and it was an exciting game."

"The Hawks have a better team than they did last year, more horsepower, maybe not as much depth," he added.

"Greg Ladner has great potential, the best runner we have been up against this year. He has good moves, and he runs for daylight," Rhodes said.

Hancock North Central, following an off day next week, goes against Saint Balanced Rock attack sends Eagles in nosedive, 34-0

By ELLIS CUEVAS

St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws required only 14 seconds Friday to take a 7-0 lead over the St. John Eagles. Stanislaus dominated the game with a final score of 34-0.

On the opening kick-off by Dean-Stringer of the Eagles, Rock running back Randy Santa Cruz electrified the crowd with a 80 yard burst up the middle for a score behind some fine blocking. The point after by Gus Armato was good.

Santa Cruz added another touchdown on a seven yard run with Armato adding another extra point at 1:42 remaining in the first stanza.

Rock-A-Chaw head coach Billy Poole was well pleased with his team's performance.

"Anytime you win 34-0, you have to be pleased with their performance," added coach Poole.

Rock running back Keith Pfister took a hand off from quarterback Peter Bernheim for a seven yard score and Armato added the point after giving Stanislaus a 21-0 lead.

Stanislaus added two points with only 45 seconds left in the first half when an Eagle snap from center on an attempted punt ended up with quarterback Karl Funk being trapped in the end zone. On the free kick by the Eagles, Rocks' Santa Cruz returned it to the Eagle 23, and on a couple of plays with time running out Armato booted a 22 yard field goal with four seconds left in the half. The half ended with Stanislaus on top 26-0.

Coach Poole substituted freely throughout the game on both offense and defense, giving his starting players very little playing time in the second half.

Bernheim, Rock-A-Chaw regular signal caller was given a complete rest in the fourth quarter when junior Gary Sotak took over the signal calling duty.

The Rock defense tightened up when its goal line was threatened. The Eagles moved to the Rocks' 13 in the first quarter and were shut down on a fumble recovery by Keith Favre.

Stanislaus kicked-off to start the second half and an off sides infraction against the Rocks causing the ball to be moved back on the kick-off didn't keep Juan Betanzos from putting the ball into the end zone.

St. John's offense cranked up on their own 20 and moved the ball down field eating up half of the third quarter before they bogged down on the Rocks' four yard line. The Eagles had a first and ten on the Rocks ten but could only reach the five in four plays where the Rocks took over the ball.

One of the most exciting plays of the game was three plays later when Bernheim stood up and hit Fred Keel with a short pass for an 80 yard apparent score which was called back for illegal movement.

Stanislaus moved the ball to about mid-field and punted to St. John. After three attempts to make a first down the Eagles were forced to punt. Another bad snap went over the kicker's head for another safety giving the Rocks a 28-0 lead only 8:59 left in the game.

The Rocks final score came eleven plays after the St. John kick when running back Dave Boos moved in from the four. The point after attempt was missed and with 4:28 left in the contest the Rocks had a 34-0 lead.

Stanislaus used both running and passing to move the ball. Rock runners picked up 180 yards on the ground and 100 yard passing. The Eagles netted 149 yards on the ground and 57 passing. In first downs the Rocks had a 16-11 edge.

Keel hauled in three passes for the Rocks with David Grapusa and Perre Cabel one each. Santa Cruz, Scott Senner and Jimmy DeSilva showed Stanislaus as having power in the running back position.

"St. John's has a good team, if they would have gotten a few breaks it would have been a lot closer game. We were not emotionally as high for this game as we were against Pearl River last week. We were not as crisp. When a game is played on emotions it is a most exciting game," added coach Poole.

The Rocks, now 2-0, go against Notre Dame next Thursday night, September 21, at 7:30 at Notre Dame in Biloxi.

d'Iberville offense rolls over Pass Christian, 21-0

By RICH ADAMS

A key pass interception and fumble deep inside d'Iberville territory allowed the d'Iberville Warriors to shut out the Pass Christian Pirates, 21-0.

The loss was the first of the season for Pass Christian. The win took the Warriors up another notch to bring the defending conference champs to an undefeated 3-0 for the season.

Warrior head coach Buddy Singleton, marking up his 100th career coaching win, said the game was "just one of those things."

"We got out in front first, and maybe that gave us the advantage," Singleton said.

"Perhaps if Pass Christian had scored first, things would have been different," he continued.

"Both teams moved the ball well, but our scoring first was a factor in our advantage," he added.

d'Iberville earned one score and we gave them the other," two," said Pass Christian head coach Bob Lumpkin.

"We played well, but made too many mistakes," he continued.

"I think d'Iberville probably has the best team on the coast, and probably in the state," he added.

d'Iberville took the opening kickoff and moved the ball downfield 63 yards on 15 plays, the drive culminating on a two yard quarterback sneak by Reggie Collier.

The point after, kicked by Warren Donald, Bay Williams was good, placing d'Iberville on the 20.

Pass Christian carried the ball downfield to the Warrior seven yard line, moving the ball well with a variety of plays, and then quarterback Virgil Swannier fumbled the ball and d'Iberville recovered inside their own 10 yard line.

d'Iberville took the ball towards paydirt again, but attempting a first down play on a risky fourth and nine situation, Collier missed runningback Grady Fountain on a short screen pass and Pass took possession of the ball.

Early in the second half, a Swannier pass intended for a Pirate receiver was picked off by Keith Higginbotham and taken to the Pass Christian one yard line.

Collier took the ball in over the line on a one yard quarterback sneak.

The conversion by Williams was good, extending the Warrior lead to 14-0.

Late in the fourth quarter, as d'Iberville was forced to punt from mid-field, Dwight Dedeaux bobbled the wobbly kick and d'Iberville recovered deep in Pirate territory. Collier swept around the left side of the line to score his third touchdown from six yards out.

Williams booted the extra point to give the Warriors the victory, 21-0.

d'Iberville outdistanced the Pirates overall, rushing for 199 yards compared to the Pirate's 87.

The Pass eleven picked up six first downs, while the Warriors ran for 13.

Mackie Dedeaux led the Pirates in rushing, picking up 55 yards for Pass Christian. Fountain carried for 132 yards for the Warriors, and quarterback Collier carried for 33 yards.

The Pirates are now 1-1 for the season, and travel to Bay St. Louis next Friday for a 7:30 p.m. game.

Bay St. Louis is 1-2 for the season, following a 21-0 loss to Hancock North Central Friday night.

END AROUND—Mackie Dedeaux, No. 22 for Pass Christian, heads around the end and heads downfield. He was stopped all night long Friday, as the Pirates went scoreless against the d'Iberville Warriors. The final score of the contest was 21-0. (Staff photo-Rich Adams)

Baby Tigers extend shutout streak

The Bay High Junior Varsity Tigers wiped out the Hancock North Central Hawks JV squad Thursday night at the Kihl, 30-0. It was the Tiger's third consecutive shutout and leaves them unbeaten in season play, 3-0.

"Both defensive and offensive teams did real well," said Tiger Head Coach Cleveland Williams.

"I hope our defensive play holds up and we can continue this winning streak," he added.

The Mini-Tigers scored in the first quarter on a 70 yard touchdown run by David Gillum on a handoff from quarterback Donald Ecker.

The two point conversion attempt by Don Caldwell was good. The second score came in the second quarter, when Gillum took another Ecker hand off in from 47 yards out. The point after was no good, making the halftime score 14-0.

Caldwell ran for a 65 yard score early in the third quarter to increase the Tiger lead to 20-0.

Keith Johnson took the extra point in for two points.

A five yard run to paydirt by Van Fayard and another conversion capped the Tiger shutout in the final quarter.

The Tigers have scored 130 points in three games played thus far and have yet to be scored against.

The Baby Tigers travel to Pass Christian to vie against the Pirate eleven, Thursday, Sept. 21. Game time is at 7 p.m.

Bulldogs, Central vie in standoff

By EDGAR PEREZ

Gulfview's Bulldogs battled Pearl River Central's Blue Devils to a 16-16 tie Thursday night at Bulldog Stadium, giving the Lakeshore seventh and eighth graders a 1-0-1 season record so far.

The Bulldogs defeated Pineville in their season opener last week, 20-0.

Mark Santalla's 140-yard rushing effort and Donald Graham's completion of six out of eight passes for 90 yards sparked the Bulldog offense, Coach Curtis Thaxton reported.

Fine defensive play on the part of Donald Spiers, nose guard; Eric Malstrom, corner back; Billy Evans, tackle; and Mark Santalla, linebacker, was cited by the coach.

"Thaxton called PRC's Denny Westbrook a 'one-man team'."

Kevin James was credited with 48 yards rushing for the Bulldogs, and receivers Santalla, Ladner and Wainwright aided Graham's successful passing effort.

The first quarter ended in a defensive standoff with neither team able to move the ball.

The Bulldogs broke the ice in the second quarter with a series of Graham passes, culminating in a 20 yard TD connection with Santalla.

Jay Wainwright snagged another flip from Graham to post two more points, ending the first half with the Bulldogs leading 8-0.

Westbrook led the Blue Devils on a 70 yard drive in the third quarter, scoring on a 40 yard run. The PRC star also ran in two extra points, tying the ballgame.

Gulfview's Donald Spiers recovered a fourth-quarter fumble at about mid-field.

Troy Adams and Mark Santalla pushed the ball down to the Blue Devil's four where fullback Kevin James plunged over to put the Bulldogs ahead again.

James ran in two extra points for good measure.

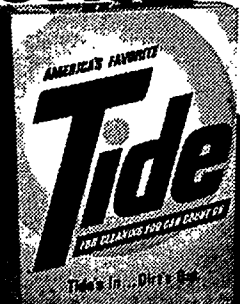

But everybody's favorite Denny Westbrook didn't like the looks of the scoreboard, took the Bulldog kickoff 65 yards back to touchdown territory, and put the lock on a tie with a two point plunge.

Thaxton estimated Westbrook gained some 200 yards rushing in the game.

The Bulldogs will square off against neighboring rivals C.B. Murphy in Pearlington at 5 p.m. Tuesday.

Lynn Anderson heads all-star cast at Mississippi State Fair

Some of the nation's and the state's top entertainers will perform during the 119th Mississippi State Fair in Jackson, October 10 through 17, with eight shows in the Coliseum.

"We have attempted to bring the most talented and outstanding performers to the Mississippi State Fair. A new innovation will be the Thursday 'Mississippi Night' said Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce Jim Buck Ross, who is also chairman of the Mississippi State Fair Commission.

No admission will be charged for the Coliseum shows, according to Billy J. Orr, executive director of the Mississippi Fair Commission and general manager of the fairgrounds.

Lynn Anderson, who is considered one of the most versatile and enduring personalities to emerge from Nashville in the 1960's, headlines the first two shows at 8 p.m. Tuesday, October 10 and Wednesday, October 11.

An evening of entertainment by Mississippi's recording stars will be presented at 8 p.m. Thursday, October 12 during "Mississippi Night".

The entertainers will include singers, musicians and a comedian. They are, Linda Cannon, Sam Wilkins, Mark Gray, Harriet Butler, Mickey Davis and Easy Pickin's, Kurt Kliptrick, The Owens Brothers, Natural High and the Ed Butler-Jerry Puckett Orchestra and Singers.

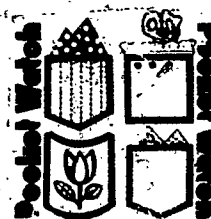

Musician Danny Davis and his Nashville Brass perform at 8 p.m. Friday, October 13 and Saturday, October 14. Davis and his instrumental-vocal group have had numerous hits. They have received several Grammy Awards, the music industry's highest honor.

The popular family-oriented Gospel Sing is scheduled at 2 p.m. Sunday, October 15. Featured entertainers are The Thrasher Brothers, the Hinsons and the Dixie Echoes. Ventriloquist Jimmy Nelson will emcee all the Coliseum shows.

Singer and song writer Bobby Goldsboro, who has 13 successful years writing and recording hit records, will close out the fair shows with 8 p.m. performances Monday, October 16 and Tuesday, October 17. His songs include "Honey", "Watchin' Scotty Grow" and "A Butterfly for Bucky".

Admission to the fairgrounds during the State Fair is $1.50 for adults and children 12 years of age and over, 50 cents for children 6 through 11.

Children under six will be admitted free when accompanied by parents or escort with ticket.

SAY CHEESE

Cheese is a good protein and has most of the nutrients of milk from which it's made. Like milk it's also an instant and convenient food without waste, ready to eat even without cooking.

For best taste, remove cheese from the refrigerator about thirty minutes before serving and bring it to room temperature. However, it is better to take out only the cheese you are going to serve, not the whole piece if it happens to be a large one.

Have you ever had cheese develop an oiliness? It does this when it's been without refrigeration for too long a period. It can even do this within the duration of a party that lasts for two or three hours. It's much better to place out only enough cheese for the first round or two and then replenish the supply.

Cheese is excellent from snacks to main dishes to desserts. But now, for the football crowd, try some tasty snack making with cheese.

CHEDDAR CHEESE FOOTBALLS

3 cups (12 oz.) shredded Cheddar cheese
2-3 cup crumbled Blue cheese
1-2 cup (1 stick) butter, softened
2 tablespoons grated onion
2 tablespoons chili sauce
1-2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Pimiento

In a 2-quart saucepan combine the Cheddar and Blue cheeses, butter, onion, chili and Worcestershire sauces. Heat over low heat, stirring constantly, until cheese begins to melt.

Remove from heat; beat with electric mixer until thoroughly blended. Pour into a buttered 4-cup melon mold and allow to set until firm. To turn out, dip mold quickly into warm water; shake until loosened. Garnish top of football with pimiento strips to form laces.

County Agent's Notes

by John Smith

GARDEN INSECT CONTROL

You fall gardeners can expect to be bothered by insect pests unless you take control measures.

Pickleworms, squash bugs and squash stem borers will attack cucumbers, squash and other vine crops if not controlled.

Blister beetles, stinkbugs and tomato fruitworms will likely cause problems in fall tomatoes. Worms will also attack your cabbage, broccoli and leafy greens.

Keep a close watch on your fall garden for signs of insects.

If you spot damage, control with a recommended insecticide. For more information on fall gardening, contact your County Extension Agent.

LIME NOW

You need to make plans to lime as many acres of your acid soils as possible. Lime is the number one investment needed on most Mississippi farms. It's estimated that a good liming program would increase the value of the state's crops by as much as $100 million.

More than half of the lime used by Mississippi farmers is applied from August 1 to December. Many lime vendors are stockpiling now to avoid shortages this fall.

SOYBEAN SEED STORAGE

Breakdowns in seed handling equipment and dirty storage facilities can cause costly delays during soybean harvesting. You need to clean your grain bins and warehouses to be used for seed storage and make sure they are useable. Also, check your seed handling equipment and make needed repairs now so you will be ready when harvesting begins this fall.

MILKING EQUIPMENT

If you're in the dairy business, you need to check your milking equipment regularly. If your equipment is not operating properly, it takes longer to milk, milks incompletely and damages your cow's udders. To prevent this, make sure the vacuum pressure is 12 to 15 pounds per square inch. Keep plenty of oil at the pump and check for leaks around pipeline fittings. Also, keep all parts around the vacuum controller clean.

Ag Affairs

by Ed Blake

The current rail car shortage across the nation means a lot of indirect things to all people - but the problem is a direct concern to farmers because it means loss of sales, lower prices, and higher storage and transportation costs.

It has been only during recent years that the steady worsening national problem has come to the attention of those directly involved in shipping the products of the nation's industries and farms.

But this year the perennial problem is the worst in modern times with estimates of the car shortage running as high as 50,000 cars daily.

A range of problems have converged to create the current situation, according to Chuck Fields, a specialist in transportation issues with the American Farm Bureau Federation's national affairs office in Washington.

Recently, Fields analyzed the situation and said you can start with the general unhealthy economic condition of the Eastern and Midwestern railroads, many of the bankrupt. Penn Central and several others were reorganized by Congress to create the quasi-private conrail system. That situation brought about what the industry and regulators call "deferred maintenance."

This means that the nation has thousands of cars out of repair and out of service, thousands of miles of track that are in such bad condition that trains are forced to use them at greatly reduced speeds and subject to a high incidence of derailment, and also there is a shortage of locomotives to the extent that the equipment cannot be moved efficiently even when or if cars are available or tracks usable.

In the face of the situation, Fields stated, agriculture's requirements are peaking in the weeks and months ahead with large harvests of crops.

"We had a heavy carryover of grain from last year with sudden spurts of buying by Russians, Chinese and others. And now we have another big every possible short-term action it could - such as ordering carriers to deliver every available car, putting a restriction of 20 percent on the cars that could be used in unit trains so as to protect smaller shippers, and levying penalties for violations.

Members of Congress are making a lot of noise. Fields added, and shippers are doing a lot of moaning." But frankly, he reported, no one knows of much more that can be done to cure the immediate situation.

Among other factors cited by Fields as contributing to the severity of the problem is the "outmoded and extremely costly work rules foisted upon the carriers by the rail unions" which he described as one of the major causes of the economic virus that has overwhelmed so many of the lines.

Fields also singled out three harvest of wheat, corn and soybeans looming that will make the problem even more severe.

"You can add the fact that in the last two years we've had the worst winters in recent memory which prevented efficient movement of equipment and required a later than usual opening of the upper Mississippi River for barge traffic."

Fields credited the Interstate Commerce Commission with taking about and unimaginative rail management, corporate bureaucracy, outmoded regulation and tax policies.

As to solution, the transportation specialist said an agricultural transportation bill will come before Congress soon calling for innovative changes. Research will be called on to discover new means of efficiency. Ways of spreading out the marketing peaks would be examined, and new approaches may be made to rail car ownership - such as farmers' ownership of certain short line railroads, and the investment of more grower money into leasing and owning railcars, and there may need to be a push for a nationwide, free-running pool of freight cars.

Other recommendation to come before Congress will deal with carrier versatility and a softening of regulations and tax policies.

MISSISSIPPI WEEKLY WEATHER & CROP REPORT

(National Weather Service): Warm and hazy weather was the rule over the state during the week. Temperatures averaged from three to four degrees below normal at most locations. Tupelo had the lowest reading with 55 degrees being recorded on the 4th, while Columbia and Carthage had the highest readings with 77 degrees being reported on the 8th. Little or no precipitation fell over the state at the beginning of the week, however widely scattered showers and thunderstorms developed over the state Thursday and Friday. Only a few locations reported any rainfall with Greenwood reporting the highest 24-hour amount with .33 on the 7th. Hot and humid weather returned to the state during the weekend. Scattered afternoon and evening thunderstorms developed each day with most places receiving some rain. Charleston had the highest amount with 1.75 inches falling on the 10th.

CROP SUMMARY: Warm temperatures and dry weather rapidly matured crops. Most areas need a general rain to improve soil in late maturing soybeans. Pastures are also needing rain. The main farm activities included harvesting of corn, hay, and silage, and insect control in cotton and soybeans. Also some cotton fields were defoliated. Soil moisture supplies were very short to short over most of the state. An average of 6.1 days was suitable for fieldwork compared to 45 days last week and 4.4 days for the same week last year.

The soybean acreage was 88 percent podding, 36 percent turning and 7 percent shedding. Last year at this time 95 percent was podding, 44 percent turning, and 14 percent shedding. The crop was in fair condition.

Seventy-six percent of the cotton acreage had open bolls compared to 80 percent last year and the average for the date of only 23 percent. About two percent of the acreage was harvested compared to six percent at this time last year. The crop was in fair condition.

The rice crop was in good condition with 71 percent of the acreage mature compared to 84 percent last year. Harvest was progressing rapidly and was 25 percent complete compared to 23 percent last year and the average of only three percent.

Corn was 91 percent mature compared to 96 percent last year. About 24 percent of the acreage intended for grain was harvested compared to 25 percent last year and the average of 12 percent. The crop was in fair to good condition.

Corn silage was 91 percent harvested, the same as last year at this time.

The sorghum acreage was 75 percent ripe compared to 78 percent last year. About 28 percent of the acreage intended for grain was harvested compared to 26 percent last year and the average of 25 percent.

Sorghum silage was 76 percent harvested compared to 77 percent last year.

Hay crops were 84 percent harvested compared to 80 percent last year and the average of 76 percent.

Peanuts were 28 percent harvested compared to 32 percent last year and the average of 29 percent.

Sweetpotatoes were 34 percent harvested compared to 29 percent last year and the average of 31 percent.

Pastures and pecans were in mostly fair condition.

Stone tells Save the Bay local officials responsible for DuPont

By LESLIE WILLIAMS
Joe Stone, director of Mississippi's Conservation and Wildlife and Fish Commissions and chairman of the permit board of Mississippi Air and Water Pollution Control Commission, told "Save the Bay" last week if responsible officials had been holding office, DuPont would never have located here.

"If county zoning or land use planning, or whatever you want to call it, had been in effect, and if responsible local public officials were holding office, DuPont would have never moved into DeLisle," Stone told the ecology group.

Billy McDonald, supervisor from Harrison County's Beat Three, which covers Pass Christian and the DuPont plant site, in answer to Stone's statement said, "I don't know anything about that. I was not the supervisor of Beat Three at the time."

McDonald said the late Bob Reed was Beat Three supervisor when final plans were made for DuPont's location in Harrison County. Save the Bay is an organization that exists to stop pollution, said Erna Peters, a member of the group's board of directors.

Stone said he thinks the whole conservation problem can be handled politically.

He contended that people concerned about conservation should gather and become a collective bargaining political unit.

"After this is accomplished, pressure can be put on your politicians," Stone continued. "You should put people in office who think the way you do and want the things that you want."

As an example Stone said, "If you want to get elected as public service commissioner, the first thing you have to do is talk to the power companies and get contributions from them so that you can get elected."

"I doubt if any of you in this room has ever given a penny for a public service commissioner's campaign ... but I assure you the power companies donated a hell of a lot of money to the public service commissioner's campaign," he stated.

Stone told the group the U.S. East Coast is over industrialized and based on a false economy, "and if we're not careful the same thing will be happening 10 years to the Gulf Coast."

Stone defines false economy as an industrially inflated geographical area which has brought in more industry than can be dealt with effectively.

"Bend, do not break," said Stone. Do not alienate yourself from political officials, warned Stone.

"Most supervisors are not qualified or capable to make the decisions they should make," stated Stone.

Politicians are sensitive to the opinions of their constituents, he said, adding, "you should educate them as to how you feel."

"Governor Cliff Finch appointed me to the Gulf Coast Energy Allocation Fund Commission—whatever that is," the official continued.

"Here we are doing out federal money and I'm sure most of the people on that committee are about as ignorant as I am. ... I'm completely ignorant of the whole program," he continued.

Stone said he thinks Mississippi is the promised land.

"It's the grass roots politicians you need to influence, and you're the only ones who can effect them," he exclaimed.

Also at the meeting, Save the Bay board member Cyril Laan moved that "Save the Bay go on record with the Secretary of Interior and the Gulf Islands National Seashore and Park Service as opposing the construction of a dock on the north shore of Horn Island or any other location to accommodate tour vessels."

His motion was approved.

CASE NO. 46
SECURITY SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION
BAY ST. LOUIS, MISSISSIPPI

Re: Petition for approval to change the location of the home office from its present location at No. 3 Colonial Plaza, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, to 162 East Annie Street, Jackson, Mississippi, and for authority to continue the operation of the Bay St. Louis office as a branch office of the association.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given under the provisions of Section 81-12-29 and 81-12-43(2), Mississippi Code of 1972, that SECURITY SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION filed a petition on July 20, 1978, requesting that it be granted authority to change the location of its home office from its present location at No. 3 Colonial Plaza, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, to 162 East Annie Street, Jackson, Mississippi, and for authority to continue the operation of the Bay St. Louis office as a branch office of the association.

This cause is hereby set for hearing under the provisions of Section 81-12-29, of said Code, at the regular meeting of the Savings Association Board to be held at 10:30 A.M., Tuesday, October 17, 1978, at the offices of the Department of Savings Associations, Suite 201, the State Street Building, 633 North State Street, Jackson, Mississippi.

On said return date the docket of cases will be called. Any financial institution desiring to oppose this application is hereby extended an invitation to be heard by sworn written statement or in person by the Board. Anyone opposing the approval of this petition shall file a sworn written notice of its opposition with the Commissioner at least fifteen (15) days prior to the date of the meeting of the Board. Said notice shall set forth in summary form specific objections to the approval of the petition. Copy of same is to be furnished by the opposition to said petitioner at the time it is filed with the Board.

If proper protest, answer or other appropriate pleading has been timely filed in response to the petition, the Commissioner may fix a date during the term for hearing of the petition. If no protest, answer or other pleading has been filed and the petition is not contested, the Board will hear the petition on the return date if time permits; otherwise, it will be set for hearing on a definite date during the term.

WITNESS my hand and official seal of the Commissioner of Savings Associations of Mississippi on this 25th day of August, 1978.

Webre blasts ecologists, Cadet Basin threatened

By RICH ADAMS
W. W. Webre, executive director of the Port and Harbor Commission, said the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and the Port and Harbor Commission "have been backed into a corner by ecologists on a proposed spoils area for Bayou Cadet."

"It is up to the ecologists to decide where to put the spoils site, and therefore it is up to the ecologists to decide whether we can build the proposed anchorage basin or not," said Webre.

"The anchorage basin is in jeopardy," he continued.

"We've been chased all over the county by ecologists. They are nothing but a bunch of eggheads," he added.

"They are blocking the project and the progress of Hancock County. We should rally and fight this bunch of ecologists," Webre said.

"If we can't avall ourselves the anchorage project, we will be dropped by the Corps of Engineers," he explained.

Commissioner James DeBlanc brought up the possibility of constructing a marina at the foot of Washington Street in Bay St. Louis.

McDonald said there would be a mass public protest from residents in the area if a proposal for a marina at Washington Street was made.

The matter was tabled by the board.

WORK AREA - "A cutting torch, welding machine, mill, wedges and saddles were the major tools used," says builder, Isadore Givens. Givens worked on this 55-ton steel boat in his spare time for six years. He, along with sons, Larry and Wayne hand-built this boat. (Staff photo-Leslie Williams)

Social Security benefits 3,463 in Hancock County

Social Security benefits were being paid to residents of Hancock County at the rate of $649,165 a month at the start of 1978, William D. Gladden, Social Security manager in Gulfport reported.

Social Security benefits can be paid to retired persons age 62 and over, to workers who become severely disabled before age 65, and to survivors of deceased workers.

Monthly Social Security checks are also paid to certain dependents of a worker who has retired, become disabled or died.

Of the 3,463 Social Security beneficiaries living in Hancock County, 1,603 are retired workers and 369 are disabled workers.

Another 368 persons are receiving benefits as the wives or husbands of retired or disabled workers. Widows, widowers and dependent parents of deceased workers number 430.

In Hancock County, 1,565 people under age 65 and 1,898 people age 65 and older are receiving monthly social security benefits. Of total beneficiaries, 1,217 are men, 1,553 are women and 693 are children.

SKATATHON CHAMP-Chady Lacy, 17, skated to a championship at the Golden Gate Skateland in d'Iberville in the Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy Skatathon. She skated 20 hours, earning over $800 from her sponsors. Ms. Lacy is a senior at Long Beach High School and editor of their annual, the Seagull. She is district president and state officer of Future Homemakers of America (FHA) and plays softball for a local Gulf Coast team, "Salt & Pepper." In addition, she is a member of the Golden Gate Skateland Skating Club and has received her "C" (competition) commission from the Roller Skating Rinks of America (RSROA). The Skatathon, which has become an annual affair on behalf of the Muscular Dystrophy Foundation, began with 74 participations and 11 completed the marathon. Golden Gate Skateland turned in a total of $4,100 which the skaters earned.

Doug Wilson, right, assistant executive director for operations at Gulf Coast Community Hospital, received a certificate of sponsorship as Ms. Lacy's leading contributor for the event. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lacy of Long Beach.
